FIX THIS

The enemy appears driven and motivated by something other than ideology or funding.

Every one of these events (could have) occurred due to a failure of imagination. The job is not to predict tomorrow based on yesterday. That's what academics do.

The task is to prevent the end of tomorrow by using your brain and your imagination.

Suppose you don't identify and find the threat before it's too late. In that case, you might be held responsible for the single largest intelligence fumble since a flight instruction school in Florida failed to grasp the significance of a 19-year-old Al-Qaeda terrorist saying he didn't need to learn how to land.

Coordinated attack in Russia on Crocus City Hall music venue in Krasnogorsk, west of Moscow – March 22, 2024

Jamaat Ansarullah Tajikistan - ISIS Kabul Afghanistan

The attack was planned by Jamaat Ansarullah and developed since October 2022. Russian intelligence knows that Jamaat Ansarullah is responsible. But it is unlikely that they will act against Jamaat Ansarullah.

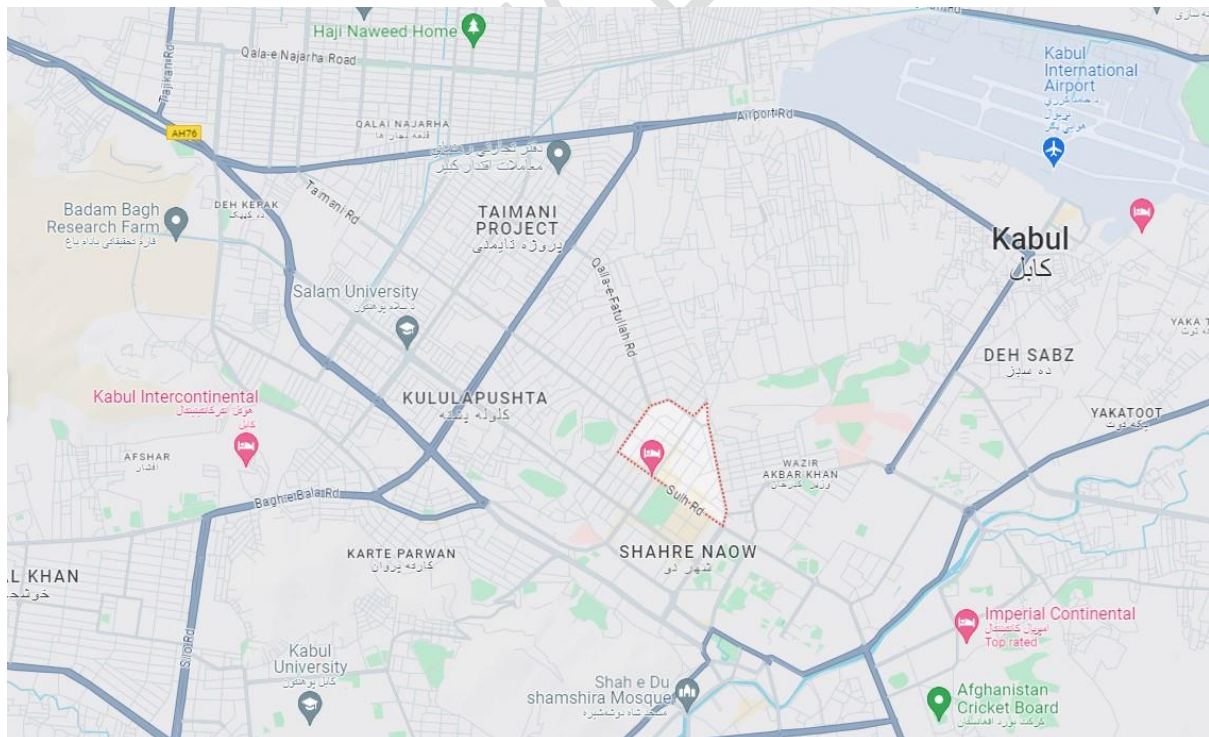

The commander of this plan was transferred from Afghanistan. He left and is safe. He is to return to Kabul soon.

They arrived in Russia months ago. The fighters arrested are not the only ones. More than 20 persons were involved in this attack of which some were arrested on their way to the Ukrainian border, but most escaped with their commanders.

ISIS claimed the Moscow terror attack.

Mawlawi Ibrahim the leader of Jamaat Ansarullah is an important powerful leader controlling thousands of fighters and supporters in Central Asia. This could be a reason for Russia to not publicly single him out! but focus on Ukraine.

He is responsible for ISIS in north Afghanistan and currently lives in Sherpur, Kabul, Afghanistan under a blanket of high-level security.

SUICIDE BOMB RUSSIAN EMBASSY

Report regarding the first part of the attack by the suicide attacker at the entrance of the Russian embassy. The attacker wanted to enter the Russian embassy but was identified and disrupted. As a result, several other people, including two Russians, were killed and wounded.

Several of our sources report the suicide attack on the Russian embassy in the 7th district of Kabul City:

Conflict among Taliban leaders

The Haqqani network and Mullah Yaqoob, conflict with other Taliban leaders because they must act according to the Doha agreement. Big networks like ISIS, al-Qaeda, and foreign terrorist groups are secretly supported in Kabul and northern provinces.

political confusion

After the fall of the Afghanistan republic and moving out of the Americans; Russia, China, and other neighboring countries are trying to intervene in the economic, political, and cultural sectors. This caused political confusion.

Haqqani network

An offensive attack was organized by the Haqqani network, Mullah Yaqoub under the responsibility of Hafez Haqqani, a relative of Siraj Haqqani in coordination with the Ansarullah group of Tajikistan and Haji Forqan from the foreign fighters.

Suicide attacker

Russian citizen and a member of Ansarullah Tajikistan the 18-year-old Abu Tariq, stayed at Wazir Akbar Khan Road 11, in one of the secret mansions related to the Haqqani network. He received suicide training in the Arzah district of Logar province and was released in the care of Hafez Haqqani who was responsible for the suicide attacker.

Remote controlled detonation

The attack took place on September 5, 2022, in the 7th district of Kabul city where his target was Russian employees inside the Russian embassy. He was taken down by the officials at the embassy gate. After he was shot, the bomb was detonated with remote control.

Target Russia, China, and Uzbekistan

Our colleagues add that: from this date onwards, the Haqqani network and Mullah Yaqoub, in coordination with ISIS, JAT, and foreign terrorist groups are in pursuit of assassinations of high-ranking officials, businessmen, and engineers of Russia, China, and Uzbekistan. This was only the first successful attack.

Foreign Fighters in Badakhshan Province:

The presence and activity of Haji Forqan (*) and the East Turkestan Network and other terrorist networks in Badakhshan.

After the fall of the Islamic Republic of Afghanistan, foreign fighters moved from areas including Khostak valley and Varduj to other districts that were important to them from a geopolitical point of view, such as Baharak, Jarm, and Feyzabad city center.

Four terrorist branches.

- 1- East Turkestan movement under the leadership of Haji Forqan (*) Ighuri.
- 2- Jamaat Ansarullah movement of Tajikistan under the leadership of Mutasim Ballah known as Mawlawi Ibrahim.
- 3- Islamic Movement of Uzbekistan under the leadership of Artash known as Haris Uzbek.
4. Golmurad Colonel Halimov*, in charge of ISIS.

These terrorist networks are organizationally separated, but they work in harmony in terms of ideology and methods.

Organizations of these terrorist groups:

- The East Turkestan movement is the most substantial network which the other networks revolve around and cooperate financially. There are currently approximately 1,000 members of East Turkestan, most of whom are Uighur nationals. 40% in Baharak, 10% in crime, 10% in Badakhshan provincial capital Faizabad, 4% in Ishkashim, 2% in Zibak, and the rest in Baghlan, Kunduz, Mazar-e-Sharif, Faryab Kunar, and Jalalabad.

-The Islamic Movement of Uzbekistan, in coordination with Haji Forqan.

- Jamaat Ansarullah movement is also coordinating with two other networks, but 10% of them have changed their appearance in Raghistan, and 30% are moving across borders and gates, using deep cover methods. They live under a new identity and appearance.

Strategic goals and daily activities

From five months onwards, this group buys 90 percent of weapons and ammunition, especially M4 and M16 weapons, at prices ranging from one hundred thousand to one hundred thirty thousand Afghanis. They have a depot of purchased weapons in Khostak valley, a depot in Farakh Baharak, a depot in Warduj, two depots in Raghistan, and Nesi Darvaz, a depot in Kunduz, and a depot in Baghlan. There are more than 50 commissions in Badakhshan that buy all kinds of weapons for them.

Drugs business by Haji Forqan, Mawlawi Ibrahim, and Haris, members of their leadership, start from the low level of opium purchase to large-scale drug trafficking in collaboration with local smugglers and Mawlawi Amanuddin.

Experienced and professional trainers, members of these networks, and two newly formed units, the martyrdom unit of Mansouri Lashkar and the martyrdom unit of Badri, will be given military training in the PRT of Feyzabad. Recruits from other provinces are sent to this training center.

- Security measures around Haji Forqan have become very strict, so he does not stay in one place even for a week and travels to Kunduz, Baghlan, Baharak, Badakhshan, Faryab, and Mazar-e-Sharif provinces. After the four-day trip to Kabul, he traveled to another area almost every day.

In Badakhshan, 60 to 70 people are relatives and have seven military bases.

- Haji Forqan was given a share in the revenues of the Azure mine.

- Khalil-ur-Rehman Haqqani, Minister of Refugees of Badakhshan Taliban, has traveled to Badakhshan twice and met with Forqan personally about the military training of the units.

- Haji Forqan, under the direct support of the Haqqani Network, is running programs in Badakhshan in coordination with Mawlawi Amanuddin, the new governor of Mullah Abdul Ghani.

INTELLIGENCE USE ONLY

The Shadow Where Crime Becomes Ideology - Al Qaeda ISIS

Al Qaeda projects itself as an organization fighting for the greater good. In reality, it is nothing more than a name that different groups (can) hide behind and attach themselves to the Al Qaeda 'brand' or its PR infrastructure.

Not only is Al Qaeda very good at PR, but they also piggyback off of other movements to gain attention and new members.

Proxies - instruments of war

It does not take a brilliant mind to think of ways this system can be exploited by organizations with enemies and highly determined competitors. If any of those enemies were to attack their competitor, they would not have any good way of doing that without outing themselves as the culprit.

This is where Al Qaeda comes in. Thus, diverting blame from themselves and onto largely unsuspecting groups of people who flock to the Al Qaeda 'ideals'. These people, or scapegoats rather, are the ones who read about (these Al Qaeda) 'attacks' and decide to join in by connecting to their network and launching attacks on Al Qaeda targets. They are the ones who are eventually caught, leaving the actual and more skilled/intelligent perpetrators in the dark behind the Al Qaeda shadow where crime becomes ideology!

This then leaves the imagination to wander. Was an attack the work of a competitor? Foreign Intelligence Service? Terror group? Or was it just a group working under the Al Qaeda name in the past?

To answer this question will take someone more in the know.

'In The Know'

Ultrascan-AGI HUMINT invests significant time and (AML) resources to capture concepts, costs, and operating expenses for criminal networks with rhizomatic dynamics. Where there is no unity or centralized structure, social, ideological, and criminal cross-border networks of anonymous perpetrators share knowledge and resources.

Ultrascan has, through its HUMINT network of 'feet in the street' access to reliable primary sources, individuals that support the development of (potential) affiliates of Al Qaeda for "good use." But also still unknown groups that have been there for more than a decade as a steering committee that induces the Al Qaeda Value Pyramid for affiliates. This access was developed to create a high level of trust in face-to-face meetings.

Primitive militia holed up in the wilderness or jungle? Or professionals executing international plots?

Terror attacks are often portrayed as an incident with little preparation or coordination, the image of the Islamist group as a primitive militia, disenfranchised, marginalized, and estranged from society, holed up in the wilderness, jungle, or backstreets of the cosmopolitan cities. Dreaming about the mission and vision but lacking the capabilities and skills to plan attacks that meet a strategy's and military doctrine's requirements.

Or professionals executing international plots?

Only when more attackers seem to be able to cause carnage that claims the attention of international media for days in a row and murder people in plain sight. Only then does one start to wonder about the level and coordinated planning those attacks have, and if such a scale of preparation can be detected and prevented.

Al Qaeda "The Base", detected but never eradicated

Al Qaeda "The Base", as in connections that go back to the 90s and developed into the past decade. Building informal relationships and human networks, one of the most important of which was formed around bin Laden in the 1980s and 1990s.

Counter-terrorism operations launched after 9/11 show that detection takes an enormous investment in Techint and deep cycle undercover operations. Traditional mechanics of terror groups proved no longer effective due to the advanced monitoring possibilities of the intelligence services (NSA, Echelon) and widely infiltrated Mosques. The operations were successful but did not go unnoticed, forcing 'The Base' to change methods, minimize their use of infrastructure, and move their leadership from Europe to less technologically advanced countries, thus staying under the radar of government agencies.

Al Qaeda's "The Base" was never eradicated because the WOT was the WOTF "War On Terror Figureheads" with a focus on thought leaders like Usama bin Laden and the AfPak region. Allowing unchecked growth of the international funding and support network.

The complexity of cross-continent high-profile attacks by Al Qaeda Affiliates

Anti-money laundering investigations (Ultrascan-AGI, 2007-2013) link the initial funding to support more complex cross-continent attacks by Al Qaeda's affiliates. The new (re-) acquired organizations like LeT, Al Shabab, Al Nusra, Boko Haram, ISIS, and groups that have not yet (re-) captured the eye of the global media today. For example, the Mumbai attacks ended at the Taj Mahal hotel, the UN building in Abuja, the US embassy in Benghazi, and the Westgate shopping mall in Nairobi.

The complexity is then defined by (preparatory and coordinating) acts abroad, foreign participation, and professional knowledge of security measures at the target.

What does that look like .... let's have a view to a kill and map the international communications in the days leading up to such a high-profile terror attack in Dakar, Senegal.

Narrative of a genuine three-month counter-terror operation

INTELLIGENCE USE ONLY

A context of intelligence operations

The secret intelligence services are the only real measure of a nation's political health. The one true expression of its subconscious

Since 2007 the intelligence services prepared for a significant shift in real US geo-policy, military power, and intelligence.

An essential part of that shift, leaving war zones and decreasing its military presence in partner countries, occurs. Allocated financial DoD resources show that what remains are substantial special operations (US-SOCOM) [...] a prioritized global monitor function facilitated by big tech. [...]

Good stories spell the end of an era

The Anglo-American security and intelligence relationship from the Second World War to the present day roughly divides the world between them and exchanging the material recorded. The US and UK 'saved themselves a great deal of money and trouble and continue to do so in the Five Eyes intelligence alliance comprising Australia, Canada, New Zealand, the United Kingdom, and the United States. The Nine Eyes Denmark, France, The Netherlands, and Norway participate as third parties. And Fourteen Eyes is an arrangement between SIGINT agencies.

Non-Western intelligence-sharing alliances include the Shanghai Cooperation Organization between China, India, Kazakhstan, Kyrgyzstan, Pakistan, Russia, Tajikistan, and Uzbekistan.

Intelligence is no longer centralized

The alphabet soup has been politicized for decades and should not be trusted by anyone. Most of these organizations have become political pawns serving the interests of one party or another. As politics has "unwittingly" become part of transnational organized crime, yes, it is very much Third World and wholly unacceptable. Also, the scope of Special Operations and Classified Programs is no longer limited to foreign soil.

The Central and the Defense Intelligence were prohibited from working inside their home countries, but nowadays, they use their instruments as if it was on foreign soil. A long time ago, they could say they only worked inside their country in the Diaspora of other countries, like Somalia, to use it there. Or to make money without oversight, with fraud and other crimes. Every time they said it was for a good cause, but now the limits are gone. They work inside their homelands to control and influence the population with a broad scope of fear narratives, visions, and missions.

NOTES

Haji Forqan
Mulah Omar
Mullah Hibatullah
Colonel Halimov
Bagram airforce base

Haji Forqan

\ for months, It was rumored that Haji Forqan was killed and replaced by a mirror image. Resolved - Photo's of Haji Forqan. in Pul-e-Khumri, Baghlan, taken on date: 28_4_2022

Mullah Omar

\ Mullah Omar died before 2003 and was replaced by a creative narrative.*

Mullah Hibatullah

Colonel Gulmurod Halimov

\ Fabricated for narrative - former commander of the Special Forces of Tajikistan, joined the Islamic State (IS) in Syria, in May 2015. Halimov had a significant following inside Tajikistan as well as Russia. Even though he has been reported killed several times, the Tajik authorities rejected those reports. Halimov's name remained on the UN Security Council's sanctions list. Starting with a fictional visit to Kabul on August 25, 2021, the intelligence department of the Haqqani Taliban and ISI fabricated reports of Halimov's meetings in Afghanistan with high-ranking Taliban and leaders of ISIS. On Saturday, August 27 2022 his remains were released.*

Bagram airforce base

\ Some time after Kabul's fall, fuel and lubrication is delivered at Bagram airport to over one hundred "contractors" who are serviced by a group of 300 third-tier workers from India. In part protected by Badri forces from the Haqqani network. While another part of the airport is protected by fighters from the Quetta Council.*
